In 2018, the task force added two law enforcement officers to investigate animal cruelty cases. And that on this day, the Harris County Animal Task Force will be recognized for its work in ensuring that all animals are cared for properly and, whereas, the City of Houston commends and appreciates the Task Force for their dedication to Houston's animal population as they make improvements through education, awareness, and continued collaboration. "Ali's case is the first of an on-going media campaign that will feature a different missing person from the area and across the state. The goal of the campaign is to generate leads in those missing persons cases, hopefully to return them to their rightful place in society or to their homes." He said the proclamation states that "the establishment of Missing Persons Day is due in part of the efforts of Jo Ann Lowitzer whose daughter, Alexandria Joy Lowitzer, has been missing since April 26, 2010. In 2017, the National Crime Information Center contained 88,089 cases of actively missing Americans and those under the age of 21 accounted for 41,089 or 46.6% of those records. Every missing person is a child of someone and deserves to be found no matter how long they remain missing or under what circumstances. Whereas, recently, Clear Channel Outdoor OutFront media and Outdoor Advertising Association of Texas launched a public service campaign that will highlight a different missing person case each month, including the missing persons photo and details on 41 digital billboards in the Houston area, to raise awareness and help to resolve cases. And whereas, February 3, 2019, Missing Persons Day will be observed in Houston in honor of all missing persons and their family and friends as the many dedicated organizations involved in these cases continue their efforts in bringing home loved ones." Mayor Turner proceeded to proclaim February 3, 2019 as Missing Persons Day in Houston, Texas and thanked everyone for their work. Council Members Stardig, and Martin were absent.

At 2:14 p.m. Mayor Turner requested the City Secretary to call the List of Speakers.

Krista Bahnsen, (512) 796-6801 appeared and stated that she is with the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network and that she is in support of Item 21 on the agenda. Smokeless tobacco use is connected to major health concerns like mouth, cheek, gum, and pancreatic cancer. She hopes that the City of Houston will join other major baseball cities by setting a better and healthier example for our youth. Council Members Knox, Martin, and Stardig were absent.

Katie Jones, 2550 North Loop West, Suite #265, 77092, 281-755-4323 appeared and stated that she is an executive director with the American Lung Association of Texas and that she, along with her association, are in support of Item 21. She said while cigarette use continues a steady decline among youth, smokeless tobacco use has remained unchanged and has increased among youth athletes. According to data from the national youth risk behavior surveys and the C.D.C. Smokeless tobacco can lead to addiction, disease, and cancer. She encourages a healthy tobacco-free lifestyle and asks support from the City Council regarding the ordinance. Council Members Knox, Travis, and Martin were absent.

Laura Murillo, 1801 Main St., 77002, 713-644-7070 appeared and stated that she is in support of the ordinance and asked that the City Council support this ordinance as well. She says she understands it's not a fix but that it is a start to something important. Council Member Martin was absent.

Lewis Foxhall, 713-745-1161 appeared and stated that he serves as a V.P. for health policy at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center and that he is also a professor in clinical cancer prevention. He said that tobacco is the leading preventable cause of cancer. CDC reports that young athletes are more susceptible to using smokeless tobacco. Council Member Martin was absent.

Council Member Boykins wanted to make clear whether or not the ordinance pertained to just the baseball players or all employees of the Astros.

Mayor reminded everyone to focus their opinions and replies towards the speaker.

Erica Parker, 409-996-8390 had reserved time to speak but was not present when their name was called.

Claudia Rodas, 832-605-5210 appeared and stated that the focus of this subject is on the effect it has on our youth. Tony Gwynn died of oral cancer in June of 2014. Two months later Kurt Schilling announced treatment for oral cancer and both of them said the cause was chewing tobacco. Since then both players have been working with non-profit organizations towards protecting today's youth. She said that city representatives have an opportunity to be leaders against tobacco and to join the fight to win MLB and the players association over. Council Members Christie and Boykins were absent.

Kevin McGuiness, 12 East 49th St., New York, NY, 10021, 212-826-0808 appeared and stated that he is the Chief Operating Officer of the Major League Baseball Players Association. He is not here to challenge or argue about the science on the health effects, or the addiction that the product causes, or its prevention amongst the youth. He said he came here today because the proposal here today is different than the proposals from other jurisdictions. This one is unique because it targets one group of people – the baseball players. He states that this encourages selective enforcement and that it criminalizes conduct today which is not criminal. This raises a lot of questions regarding various processes of the laws. This program will also undermine what they have negotiated with the league. He says that the ordinance should reflect or apply to people in general and not to a specific group. Council Members Boykins and Stardig were absent.

Mayor Turner let the speaker finish their comments.

Mayor Turner asked the speaker if any of the 15 cities passed an ordinance here it only targets the team and its employees; if there is another city with a similar provision that it is illegal to have smokeless tobacco on the field, in the locker room, or in the stands. The Mayor thanked the speaker and said he looks forward to talking with Mr. McGuiness soon.

Andie Palagi, 4131 S. Braeswood Blvd., 77025, 713-986-7808 was present but yielded their time.

Halie Shah, 1718 Ovid St., 77007, 832-428-6681 appeared and stated that she is a local physician. Gave a definition that "compost is an organic material that can be added to soil to help plants grow tremendously." 30% to 40% of what Americans throw away in landfills can be turned into compost. These do not break down easily and release methane, a dangerous greenhouse gas which traps heat within our environment and expedite global warming. If the scraps were turned into compost, it can be used as a natural fertilizer to enrich soils and decrease the use of chemical fertilizers. Data from EPA and various cities shows that when the city initiates a compost program, participation by its residents increases and decreases in regular trash. A hundred cities in U.S. have already implemented curbside composting, including Austin and San Antonio. She states that the City can help in creating less landfill waste and protecting the environment. This program can raise more jobs and revenue in the long run. Council Members Laster, Travis, and Cohen were absent.

John Marsden, 12606 Mews Circle, 77082, 832-960-0074 appeared and stated that he is tired of hearing gun shots and people getting killed from different race, religion, gender, and culture. He wants the Mayor to dedicate one day out of the year for people to gather at City Hall grounds and reflect on the souls that we have lost. He presented a poster that showed some of the people that needed justice. Council Members Travis, Stardig, and Mayor Turner were absent.

Susan Farb Morris, appeared and stated that she is the chair of the Seventh Annual ReelAbilities Film and Arts Festival. She stated that one in four people will experience a disability in their lifetime. She asks City Council to use their social media platform to encourage their constituents to attend the free film, arts, and music events. The festival will be from February 12th to the 21st that promotes and celebrates the lives, stories and talents for people with disabilities. ReelAbilities is a celebration of diversity, inclusiveness, and humanity. Council Members Knox, Castex-Tatum, Stardig, Travis, Christie, Boykins, and Mayor Turner were absent.
